

PROCLAMATION OF THE
MENDOCINO COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS
RECOGNIZING
The 78th annual
Redwood Region Logging Conference

WHEREAS, even in these difficult times, the forest products industry has endured and continues to provide a substantial basis to our North Coast communities; and

WHEREAS, the County of Mendocino is, and will remain, a hub of the North Coast Forest Products Industry; and

WHEREAS, the Redwood Region Logging conference will hold their conference in Ukiah on March 17th, 18th, 19th, 2016 at the Redwood Empire Fairgrounds in Ukiah with this year's theme being "Redwood in our Past, Redwood Today, Redwood in our Future"; and

WHEREAS, the Redwood Region Logging Conference provides an Education Day for local elementary schools including an exciting wildlife show, and a Career Day/Forestry Competition for high school students; and

WHEREAS, the Redwood Region Logging Conference offers the industry and the public an opportunity to visit vendor booths with the latest equipment, chainsaw carving exhibition, historical display, portable sawmill demonstration and logging show with logger/trucker competitions; and

WHEREAS, the Community will benefit from an understanding of this industry as it exists in the 21st Century.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Board of Supervisors of the County of Mendocino, hereby welcomes the 78th annual Redwood Region Logging Conference to Mendocino County along with urging all residents to take the time to visit the conference to celebrate our heritage of Redwood in our Past, Redwood Today, and look towards the next generation of Redwood in our Future.
